PRODUCT BESCHRIJVING

Easy to operate

Enjoying delightful, intense heat with ease: the Altech Torus makes it possible. The Torus is easy to operate: you can operate the stove and keep control over the fire with a single button. Thanks to the high, compact combustion chamber, you can enjoy the sight of spectacular flames. Because the stove has a soapstone bottom, you can achieve very clean combustion.

The Torus is available in different varieties

The Torus series consists of different models. Each model has the same base, but with different details. For example, the Torus has legs by default, but a version with a wood compartment (with or without a door) is also available.

The Altech Torus Depot features a wood compartment, which is ideal for storing firewood. On top of that, the Torus Depot is available in natural soapstone with anthracite cast iron or in uniform black soapstone with black cast iron.
